Fourth tie-breaker is a coin toss by the E-Board president. Note: Points scored in no way will have a factor in determining standings.

20. All communities must address a code of conduct with coaches, parents, spectators, Officials and players. Therefore, any and all technical fouls shall be reported to the grade coordinator via email. The grade coordinator shall keep track of all technical fouls. If a player or coach is suspended, the player or coach is also suspended from the next MVBL game. The opposing coach will contact the grade coordinator to report the name and number of the player or coach who received a technical foul. In return, the grade coordinator, upon a player or coach's third or more technical, will notify the opposing coach and town coordinator of the suspended player or coach to make sure the suspension is enforced. If suspension is ignored, the team will continue to forfeit its games until the suspension is served.

22. If anyone in attendance is ejected from the game, that individual will be banned from attending the next league game. The opposing coach will contact the grade coordinator to report the name and number of the player, coach or spectator ejected. In return, the grade coordinator will notify the opposing team of the ejected player, coach or spectator to make sure the suspension is enforced. If the suspension is ignored, the team forfeits. A second ejection will result in immediate suspension, subject to the review of the Merrimack Valley league board. The review will take place within 7 days of the ejection. At which time, the board will recommend a suspension of, at a minimum, one game, but could lead to additional games or suspension leading up to and including the whole year.
